

CAROL WESTCOTT

BIOGRAPHY

Carol's work reflects the diversity of her personal experiences; her lifelong interest in the out of doors is depicted in many of her paintings. Whether on the Bruce Trail in Ontario or along rugged European paths, the fragility of our environmental heritage captures her attention. Her paintings portray the landscape and architecture of the urban landscape around her downtown Toronto home, the small towns and rural settings she visits and the natural world surrounding trails she hikes on her travels.