

PATRICIA BELLEROSE

BIOGRAPHY

She was born in 1980 in Joliette, Quebec. Although nobody in her family had artistic interest, they encouraged her to draw, do watercolors and other painting mediums. She graduated in graphic design in 2000 and worked in that field for a very short period.

In 2006 she started acrylic painting and then moved to oil painting in 2008. Her first gallery representation started in 2011. Her artwork has been rewarded in numerous international painting contests. She is a member of Oil painter of America (OPA) and Portrait Society of America (PSA) and she is now in many galleries throughout Canada and United States, including Koyman Galleries in Ottawa, Ontario.